

Career Medical Officer - Emergency Medicine

Are you a dynamic, passionate doctor working in emergency medicine looking for a new challenge?

We're seeking suitably qualified and experienced medical practitioners to join our team and support our rapidly growing population. Located between Sydney and Newcastle the Central Coast combines a stunning coastal lifestyle with the vibrant growth of a regional area. Enjoy a rewarding career with a real work-life balance in a family friendly community that caters for all ages and where housing is affordable.

As a Career Medical Officer in our emergency team you will enjoy a friendly and supportive environment that encourages continued learning and personal and professional growth. You will have the support of senior emergency physicians with the freedom to work independently and the option to work in the acute adult or paediatric teams or our urgent care centres.

About you

- you're experienced in emergency medicine
- committed to clinical training and teaching
- thrive in an environment of clinical practice review and improvement
- skilled at leading and supervising junior doctors
- collaborative and respectful and able to work effectively in a multidisciplinary team
- a great communicator, eager to work with a dynamic, young consultant group

About us

- over 150,000 people, combined, pass through our emergency departments at Gosford and Wyong Hospitals each year
- we provide adult and paediatric services supported by intensive care units
- we have a brand new ED at Gosford Hospital and planning underway for a new one at Wyong Hospital
- we're ACEM accredited for 18 months training and have an active research program
- we're proud of our successful primary and fellowship programs
- ...and we're still growing with over 390,000 people expected to call the Central Coast home by 2031.
